

Mt. Shasta Fire is made up by a collaboration of two fire departments: Mt. Shasta City Fire and the Mt. Shasta Fire Protection District. The two departments came together in 2016 in an effort to provide enhanced emergency services to the City and the surrounding community.

Mt. Shasta Fire proudly protects and serves over 7000 people living in an area of approximately sixty square miles. We operate out of four stations that protect a primarily residential area located in the wildland urban interface. Our department is made up of a combination of paid staff and volunteers.

Mt. Shasta Fire is happy to employ two full time chiefs: One that works for the City and one for the Fire District. We have five additional paid staff and approximately 15 volunteers. Our fire stations house five engines, a rescue unit, and two water tenders. The department responds to about 1,400 fire and medical emergency calls per year. The department partners with all other fire protection agencies in Siskiyou County via mutual aid agreements and works cooperatively with the US Forest Service, Cal-Fire, and other fire agencies to reduce fire threats to the community from adjacent forest and wildland areas.

Mt. Shasta Fire works with the City to support the local community by partnering with various local groups, organizations, and agencies to champion the area and make it safer. We assist the City and local landowners with fuel reduction projects throughout the year and offer free fire inspections for homeowners. Additionally, we work with the community through school fire prevention programs, assist with the Fourth of July event in the City, and run the annual Santa's Sleigh event.
